167 Cold Rage is more like it. If they thought a bunch of people were mad about a drug addict dying with a cop on his neck was bad, wait until they see patriots who you locked in their house all year then stole their fucking election and the Scotus refused to hear your case. Does anyone have John Roberts home address so we can do a peaceful protest out front?

113 If the BLM riots taught me anything...it's that you always call them "mostly peaceful protests" and that covers literally everything in The Purge.

42 "Yes, it was mostly peaceful until these rioting guys showed up and guillotined the traitor we were protesting. Nope, don't know what happened or where they went but we are holding another mostly peaceful protest at the next house."

78 Yep. Some of those people may have tricked themselves but a lot of them truly didn't give a shit and saw an opportunity. We are just straight up cornered like a wild animal by globalists and elites. They have no idea what to expect because they dont grasp the pure anger we have of our freedoms being stripped before our eyes and love we have for this great country. I have a wife and 2 kids i must protect and by heading down the communist path my grandfather fought against so many years ago im getting a bit manic in my mental resolution to the problem.

Next step is a false flag attack to start a war with China. Its a quick way to avert a patriot uprising.

Seems like thats one and the same though. Our country being bought out and smothered by entities that exist for profit. Whether it be china buying as much property as possible and continually undermining and devalueing our currency by what should be illegal practices. Or the gluttonous members of the 'elected' government that has 'rules for thee but not for me' that enrich themselves friends and family by selling america. how can those people represent us. They cant. They represent their own kind. The kind that can vote for their own salary increases...at the expense of the very same people to whom they are supposed to represent. All the while the most affected are vilified as being a basket of deplorables simply for wanting the written and declared laws of the constitution to be followed. The other enemy has no homeland, customs or morals. Big tech. The speed of which our brains are now receiving information and the forms that they are presented to us is akin to taking drugs. Can you go a day without your phone or internet? It sucks doesn't it? Your capable of course but my point is our brains have grown accustomed to the extra stimulus and dopamine spikes by something that has completely and silently controlled your life. Our adversaries used this trojan horse a long time ago and took advantage of its addicting nature to infiltrate the past present and future of this country. The past is leveraged as allusions to racism and genocide to be used as a strawman excuse and instill fear The present is the media which is completely controlled by like 3 families that bare no alligence to any country as they are globalists. The future is the schooling and grooming of marxist ideology, both online (foreign) and at college campus's(domestic) nationwide.. with help from people like soros. Our society has become dependant on technology and it has blighted and corrupted people on all levels of power and wealth. We are our own downfall in that our passive nature and patience to a degree allowed for a slow, multilayered and calculated attack on our country and values from an enemy that is omnipresent. We need to be united again. We need to work together for a common good and that fucking vaccine bullshit isn't what I'm talking about. 1776. We have a Washington in trump. This site is our Thomas paine. And God damn do we have a lot of patriots. Edit. Sorry a bit stoned ramblin on.

China's been working to start a war for the last 5 years with most of the neighboring countries. There's a reason why a whole bunch of countries in the region are all now tied up in mutual self-defense pacts, and AUS and India now have base and harbor sharing agreements.

6 I was thinking earlier today... suppose 500,000 people show up on 1/6. And suppose just 1% of them are willing to start shooting. That's 5000 people. That's more than enough to overwhelm whatever police they have there and take over the capital building.

Also, the supreme court looks like it's right next door.

3 5,000 armed patriots in DC is not near enough to take the place by force. They have alot more than 5,000 armed cops, SS men, and Military personnel in that region. Probably at least 100,000.

16 They don't see how corrupt the world really is. It's much easier to go by your everyday life thinking it's "fine" instead of realizing how fucked up it actually is. Think about how much ugly things you know and actually think if that seems normal. It's not and that's why most people can't believe it or plead ignorance.

We know they are coming for us....did anyone hear the commie guy on Rush's show earlier???? I even tried to call to respond and I know there is no hope....

There is a list frens....and there is another list with the good Lord with our names on it...

They are coming for us....its just a matter of time now...

I feel terrible just like the rest of y'all but put Christ in your hearts and pray...

The glowies are watching and recording us....and if they steal the election and implement their socialism/communism...and crying on here will be the least of our worries...

I just want the law followed...what happened during the last 4 years and what happened during the election isn't just happenstance fucking one off bullshit pedes ...I know y'all know that but the lists are made...they've been made and the enemy has and is showing itself to us...

4 ▾ Maybe its your age and lack of understanding younger culture, but adding "In Minecraft" doesn't protect you. We know that.

Its a way for us to mock them because they know what we are referring too, but because so many criminals you see in office get away with technicalities, like the famous "Depends on what your definition of "is" is.", those of us that use the "In Minecraft" meme say it as a way to show their hypocrisy.

If they want to protect people who are far more dangerous and are obvious liars by stating they didnt show "intent", well then, we should be allowed to get off scott-free because claiming what we want to do IN FUCKING MINECRAFT means that if we were thrown on a list and seen before a judge, they can in no way determine if we meant intent.

So that's the meme explained.

▼ Its the sheer injustice of it all, and the fact our "elites" don't care to get it right, feels like we're building to somethingpermalink save report block reply▲ Independenceforever 1 day ago +6 / -06
▼ The head on the right is Robespierre or Louis XVI? I forgot.

BTW just fyi to all the commies out there - Robespierre, the antifa/BLM leader of his day, eventually lost his head too.
